Dear Helen,

I'm so happy that you are doing better.
Cancer can have unpredictable consequences, so it's a Godsend that they found it early. After an exhaustive review of all the ealy records of all types for Wayne, Ashland, and Richland Counties, I didn't come up with a lot of new material, but certainly some new hypotheses.

To review, the Ryland immigrant arrived to Philadelphia in 1750, and was in Berks Co from the day it was carved out of Lancaster in 1752 (more on Lancaster to come). The Rylands started moving to Bedord Co in the 1780's, and on to Ohio (Ash, Rich, Wayne) with Samuel's uncle Henry in Wayne in 1812 and cousin William Ryland in Vermillion Twp in 1815. The final land transaction Samuel's father made was in May, 1818, and I believe he died shortly thereafter. My thesis is that Samuel and Hannah went west with the Myers family in late 1818 or early 1819. Why they did not continue north to Wayne with the Myers remains a mystery. They definitely did not travel with Samuel's family, because his brothers are still on the Bedford tax lists as late as 1822. And based on the putative date of the journey west, it is crucial to have found the new tax lists, which put Abraham and his children in Wayne in 1819.

There were only TWO men in the three counties old enough to be the father of John and Hannah: Abraham, whom you discovered 10 years ago (Chester Twp, Wayne Co), and George (Milton Twp, Richland Co). Both are in the "over 45" category in 1820, and George has a son named Jacob. I have never found an Abraham in Richland Co, yet an Abraham Myers buys 60 acres in the same Twp (Milton) where George is, in 1826. Due to this, and due to the closeness in their ages, here's hypothesis #1: Abraham and George are brothers. That Hannah and John W. are related is beyond dispute. We've always assumed that they were brother and sister, but what if George is John W.'s father, and Hannah and John are first cousins instead? (hypothesis #2).

So finally I'm getting to hypothesis #3.
For a grandparent to John W. and Hannah, I needed someone who came from another part of Pa (Robert Smith thinks it will be Lancaster Co), spent some time in Bedford Co before his kids moved on to central Ohio by 1819 (based on what was explained above). And, of course, he must have had sons named George and Abraham. My candidate for that grandfather is George Ernst Meyer (later spelled Myers), born in Deutschland in 1723 and died 27 Oct 1812 in Bedford Co. He married Hannah Barbara Huber (later spelled Hoover) around 1758 (?). This was his second wife; the first one died young. A land warrant was issued to him in 1748 in Warwick Twp, Lancaster Co (that will make Robert happy).

And yes, he had sons named George and Abraham. In fact, there was a George Myers in the 1810 Census in Woodberry Twp (the Rylands were next door), who may be the son in question, based on his age.

So this is hypothesis #3 -- finally a really good candidate for THE Myers ancestor. But as we all know, many supposedly good leads end up on the scrap heap. Helen, when you start feeling better again, and when Robert finally frees up some time from his work, perhaps you both can help me run down this line. If we find anything at all that links George Ernst and Barbara to our Ohio ancestors, here's the kicker:
the estate papers for both George and Barbara are available at the Pioneer Historical Society in Bedford.

Sincerely,
JFR

P.S. Last year I made the greatest discovery of my genealogy career -- a page (of 2) of the original Ryland Bible, with the exact birthdates of the first 7 children born in N. America (starting in 1755). I had to get an expert in Old German to translate it for me. The original spelling of our name was Reylandt (umlaut on the "y," please).

Dear John,

Well here's the big report. (Read that and laugh.)

I went through all the property tax records for Wayne Co. 1816 through 1824. Although a number of Myers appeared in the records, many were as out of state landowners. I only sent you a sample of the records as they do not include any details other than land location. I'm thinking I should get a copy of the county map and notate where each was living and when.

I guess what I also need to do is to make a family group sheet for every Myers that I have any type of record. So far in my mind, I am not getting any family groups assimilated. Am not sure if I am explaining myself here. But it seems as if they were in the area early (or owned land) then they do not show up in later records. And vice versa.

In the deed indexes the first I find Abraham Myers purchasing land was in 1832. We know there was an Abraham there in 1820 – is this the same person? An Adam Myers purchased in 1836.

I went through all the Probate records that are on the enclosed list. I copied the two as they specified the children by name. My thinking was that if Hannah, herself, was going to be named in a will, it had to be before 1856. (Smart?) That limited my need to look at anything over the #2000. The "M" designation was a different microfilm than the ones with no letter.

I looked for a James Nelson and found that David Nelson (d. 1847) was the earliest settler. However, I still think one James may have been older. Nothing conclusive or particularly interesting was found on either of them.

I found the letter to Tom Barker in the Myers family folder. Do you think we should try to write to him? It does illustrate what I said above about information not meshing well.

The librarians at the Wayne Co. library were extremely helpful and knowledgeable about their records. One found the enclosed citation for Joseph M. & Samuel Appleton. I need to get a look at the Dayton-Montgomery Co. history. Will have to do some research to see if I can find out what an ornamental painter painted. If he had work at the World's Fair, he couldn't have been too bad. I wonder if you could figure out how to check for an obituary for him. I thought I had an exact date but now all I see is – after 1930. He died in Pasadena, CA. I just realized that his middle name is Morris. It is on the 1910 census.

I have a copy of the map that shows Joseph's property in Millersburg that he purchased the 21st of January 1868. Right behind him is his father-in-law, William Courtney. Courtney had 1-3/4 acres but Joseph's was a city lot.

With all that said about Joseph and to some extent, Samuel, I am still no further ahead at discovering who Samuel's parents were.

While I was doing microfilm, Myrna was going through all the books. She found very little and of the few things, most we already had.

So have I told you a thing new? I doubt it. At least I feel better knowing there is not a giant clue laying in Wooster waiting for one of us to pick it up.

We also went to the Holmes Co. Historical Society in Nashville, OH. It was on our way home. The lady there took some information and said she'd keep her eyes open for something. And the public library at Millersburg.

There was little on Richland Co. at Wooster. I suspect it is because of the close proximity to OGS. Doesn't make sense for them to spend their dollars on information that is available an hour away.

Myrna and I will still go to OGS at a later date. We had a duh! moment on it. We will go down the night before and be at the library when it opens. Then we will have until 5 to research. I'm sure we'll hit FW again before the snow flies too.

I feel so lost on this line. I am going to do up those group sheets.

Sincerely,

Helen

Subject: Observations

As I was going through material TRYING to make notes for OGS, I made the following observations. Some could be repeats.

Susan Walters who married John W. Myers was only 13 at the time of her marriage if the 1850 census was correct.

All the 1820 Chester Twp. Wayne Co. Myers' were too young to be Hannah's father except Abraham. There is a Jacob Myers in 1820 Clinton Twp. Wayne Co. who would fit.

An Isaac and David Myers went to Chester Twp. from Lancaster Co. PA in 1798. So I can discard them.

There were 5 Myers marriages between 1817 & 1827 in Wayne Co. Any one could have been a sibling of Hannah.

There was a Funk family from PA and some lived near Myers in Richland Co. A Lydia Funk mar. a Whisler & Daniel Whisler mar. Susan Myers who was a dau. of John W. Myers. It probably doesn't mean anything but I thought perhaps locating other Funks near Myers might help. Any long shot will do.

Oh, the age of technology. My son is in Dayton OH with his daughter at a soccer tournament. He couldn't get the scores there, so he called me on his cell phone and I looked them up on the internet and gave him the info. he needed. My granddaughter & her team will play a semi-final game at 8:30 tomorrow morning.

Dear John,

Happy spring – we had snow yesterday. It has stayed on the ground but is a very thin layer. Myrna and I were pleased that we picked the two best days of spring to go to Fort Wayne. Both days were shirtsleeve days.

As I said in my E-mail, I didn't accomplish much at FW. Enclosed is a map of Ohio which shows even more clearly how out of the way Belmont Co. was. Also I did up a PA map and all it shows is a bunch of disconnected counties.

The one Wayne Co. OH history does show John, Abram and Isaac Myers were among the earliest settlers. The 1820 and 1830 census indicates Abram (or Abraham) would be the most likely father for Hannah. However, I was not able to find any good additional information. An Abraham bought some school land in 1832 and an Abraham had an estate. I cannot figure out their index coding but it seems it is a much later date. Will follow that one up. There is no Abraham listed in Wayne Co. in 1840.

I did find some biographies on a couple of other Myers in Wayne Co. but there was nothing to tie them in with the above three Myers.

There are no Abraham or Abram Myers/s in 1810 or 1820 Bedford Co. PA. I've included a list of those residing there in 1810.

I found this Christian Myer family (which you may have already seen) and it was interesting since some moved to Wayne Co. OH but again, nothing tied anyone together.

Lastly, there was the booklet on Jonathan Myers. In the beginning the author gave some details on lines that were not his and this George Myers was of interest. At least there were some George Myers in the 1810 census index in Bedford Co. There must be some information in Bedford Co. on this family as the author found this much. The other thing is that George's 2nd wife was Hannah Hoover and it appears there may have been Hoovers in Wayne Co. I have not looked up the censuses on the George's yet.

Earlier I had told you there were Abraham Myers in Cumberland Co. and it was feasible they went to Bedford Co. on their way west. What I found was that the Abrahams, of Cumberland, were pretty well accounted for and none (of the appropriate age) left to go west.

I got a couple new pieces of information on the Samuel Appleton of Holmes Co. OH. His wife's maiden name was Morris, he died in 1860 and is buried in Oak Hill Cemetery in Millersburg. Samuel and C/Katherine were married 5 Aug 1845 in Holmes Co. Unfortunately, none of this tells me whence he came and if he had parents.

Look this stuff over, see if you can make any sense out of any of it and then let me know.

Sincerely,

Helen

The earliest settlers in this township were Judge James Robison, Samuel Funk, Phineas Summerton, John Moyers, the Hillis boys and their mother, John Emery, John Lowry, the Cunninghams, Joseph Aikens, James Fulton, Jacob Worst, Adam Rumbaugh, John, Abram and Isaac Myers, Samuel Vanosdall, Phineas Davis, William Stanley, James and Benjamin Wintermarx, Christian Rice, John Piper, Anthony Camp, Michael Mowrey, Phillip Hefflefinger, Daniel and John Pittinger, Nathaniel Paxton, William and Hugh Adams, Benjamin Emmons, Cornelius and Garret Dorland, Abraham Ecker, Thomas Osborne, John Campbell, Thomas Johnston, John A. Kelley, John and David Smith, Jacob Miller, Isaac White, Henry Sapp, John Hern, John Helman, etc.*

Chester township has within its limits two villages and a post-office station at Cedar Valley. New Pittsburg was laid out by George H. Howey, March 6, 1829, and surveyed by George Emery, the plat of which is found on page 197 of book G, at the County Recorder's office, and was recorded May 8 of that year. Jacob Piper assures us that when his father settled in the township there was but one man, a Mr. Loper, living where this village now stands, his cabin being near the creek on the west side. John Hall built the first house and kept the first hotel north of Joseph Findley's. West Union or Lattasburg was surveyed by J. W. Hoegner for Jacob Grose, February 27, 1851, the plat recorded January 26, 1854, and found on page 33 of record of town plats. In 1855 the name was changed from West Union to Lattasburg, named after Ephraim Latta. John Fasig built the first house, a log structure on the north-east corner of the Public Square, for a residence and shop. Latta bought out Fasig and began the manufacture of hand sickles. The post-office was established here May 14, 1867, when W. C. Baker received his first appointment, and has since continued. Samuel Bridenstein started the first dry-goods store, and the first settled doctor was Henry Allspaugh. The first person who died in this township is claimed to have been a woman, who is buried in the middle of the road between Lattasburg and the German Baptist Church.

1816 he was married to Kate Smith, who died September 11, 1858. He had by this marriage eleven children, five of whom are living, viz: Alexander, John S., Daniel, William D. and Eliza Jane.

Mr. Pittinger is one of the survivors of the war of 1812, and the only volunteer soldier of that war who carried a musket through Wayne county. He has distinct and vivid recollections of the campaign, and his reminiscences are inserted in another chapter of this book. Times were rough and hard, he says, when they came to the county. Fighting, drinking and quarreling were every-day affairs. A good knock-down adjusted difficulties, and the whole was sealed with a dram. John Smith and Lydia Pittinger were the first couple married in his neighborhood. A child of old Mr. Chasey was the first buried in the Lucas graveyard. His brother Daniel on one occasion whipped John Meeks.

Mr. Pittinger knew the Driskels, old Johnnycake, Baptiste Jerome and Isaac Pew, who bit off Driskel's nose. He drilled in the militia in the olden days at Blacleyville, Reedsburg, etc. Though bordering on to ninety years, he is erect as a column, and when he discusses the scenes and events of 1812 his bright eyes flash, his step quickens, and the old man is a boy again. He joined the Presbyterian church under the ministry of Rev. Beer, at Mt. Hope, in 1834. His son Daniel, with whom he lives, was born November 3, 1825, and was married September 6, 1848, to Lydia Shutt. He is a farmer, an honorable man, and a member of the Methodist church at Lafayette, Ashland county, Ohio.

Matthias Camp was born in Westmoreland county, March 18, 1794. He removed to Wayne county in the spring of 1815, first stopping with his brother, Anthony Camp, in Baughman township, where he took jobs of clearing, and did rough carpenter work. He thus continued until the fall of 1821, when, November 1, 1821, he was married to Sarah Evans, sister of James Evans, of Orrville, she dying October 24, 1868. In 1823 he settled in Chester, then Perry township, on section 1, north-west quarter, and now owned by his son John. Mr. Camp has had the following children: Silas, James, John, Anthony, Mary, Evans, Wesley, Margaret, Sarah, Agnes and Matthias. Anthony and Matthias were both soldiers in the 41st Ohio, and both dead; the former shot at Lookout Mountain, November 25, 1863, the latter dying of disease at Louisville, Ky., February 16, 1862. Silas was in the same regiment, and received a wound in the same charge. F. W. Eckerman, a son-in-law of Mr. Camp, was in the same charge, but escaped, though subsequently wounded at Dallas, Georgia, and dying July 4, 1864. Mr. Camp is six feet high, weighs one hundred and eighty pounds, and is in his eighty-fifth year, and is the noblest specimen of pioneer physical manhood in the county. In his younger years he must have had a Titan's strength. He has been a farmer all his life, and his labors have been well rewarded. He is a sincere, honest, generous hearted man, and for fifty years has been a member of the Methodist church at Pleasant Grove.

John Camp, son of Matthias, was born June 12, 1826, on the old homestead farm, where, with his father, he remained until he was twenty one years of age. He then followed carpentering for twenty-three years, building bridges, barns, houses, school-houses and churches, having erected forty-six barns, six churches, ten school-houses, and thirty-five private dwellings. He is now devoting his attention and time to agriculture, owning a large amount of real estate. He is a most industrious and resolute man, of fine muscular development, like his father, and of remarkable intelligence and memory. He has recently crossed the line into Ash-

Subject: Am doing it again

I didn't see the John Myers in Congress Twp. however, I did look at several in Perry Twp. (1820 & 1830). It seems that Perry Twp. used to be Mohican Twp. and it is now in Ashland Co. I am now thinking again that perhaps the family didn't actually move, but the county boundaries moved around them. Remember David Appleton went to Ashland Co. on his trek west?

There is one John Myers I presume to be 50 to 60 (in 1830) and there is a 70 to 80 yr. old male with him. The oldest female in the household is 50 to 60. There is also another John Myers nearby in the same age bracket.

Think I need to nose around more in Ashland Co.

Also, I just looked again and Wesley Appleton (brother to my Rebecca) enlisted in the service in Licking Co. OH. Why? Noticed that there is a town of Appleton in that Co. Will also follow up there.

Good news today. Dave was released from the nephrologist today! He will still need periodic kidney function tests but the family doctor will see to those. An interestingly, the nephrologist had a report on Dave's hip x-ray and it is normal. That means it bursitis and that doctor recommends the cortisone shot as it is not harmful to the kidney whereas the anti-inflammatory drugs are.

MAPLE GROVE CEMETERY, Ashland County, Ohio

SW 1/4, sec.29 T23, R16, TR 964 and 1/2 mile east of SR.511 . It is the property of Maple Grove Church of the Brethern. In 1856, four years before the church building was erected John Beeghly donated the land to the religious group for a burial ground. The amount of land given was a little more than one acre and has been added to making the cemetery now to cover two acres. Tdonor of the land, JohnBeeghly was born in Summerset County, Pa. and came to Ashland County purchasing the farm next to the present church. In 1877 Mr. Beeghly met his death when lighting struck his barn and was buried in the plot he gave to Maple Grove Church. Tradition says a Mr. Spawn was the first man buried in the cemetery very soon after the land was given for that purpose. Likewise a Mrs. Pierce was buried there shortly after the cemetery was established. No tombstones can be found however to substantiate these facts.

MYERS SCHOOL - - -

Sharon Twp., Richland Co., School District # 2

School Location and Early Neighboring Landowners

	1873 Map <------ 1896

Location: South-West of State Route 39 & Davis Road Intersection (gone).

On August 21, 1829, Henry Myers purchased the 160 acres of land of the NW quarter of section 11, in what was then Vernon Twp., Richland County, Ohio. This section is now a part of Sharon Twp.

In December of 1837, Henry Myers deeded a portion of that land (the very southeastern corner) to the Elders of the Lutheran German Reformed Church of Richland County. This document indicates that there was in existance at that time, a meeting house, a burying ground, and a schoolhouse to be called the Myers Meeting House. 1

On May 1853, on the motion of John Myers, the Sharon Township School Board voted to empower the local directors of School District # 8 (which 1 year later became School District # 2), to levy a tax of $450.00 for the purpose of building a school house in this district. The board authorized those local directors to procure and secure a site for a school house in this district by lease so long as they may occupy it for school purposes.

This appears to be the beginning of the existance of at least the second school house to be known as Myers School, in what came to be Sharon Township School District # 2. John Myers and his father Henry, were associated with this school district from it's inception. The John Myers property can be seen in the upper left corner, of the two above maps.

John Myers continued to serve as a local school director of District #2 school into the late 1860's. Later in the mid 1880's, A. W. Myers served as a teacher in this district.

Note that the Myers School house, shown on the maps above, is located on property adjacent to William Douglas. It is across the road from the Myers Church & Cemetery, which was located on land adjacent to the property (in 1896) of Peter Will, who was a son of Valentine Will, a director of the Will School in District # 5. Peter had taught at Will School prior to enlisting in Co. F, 163rd Regt. O. V. I. in the Civil War.

The Henry Myers family came to Richland County in ca. 1829 from Stark County, Ohio and previously, from Adams County, Pennsylvania.

During the past week I learned that the Supreme Court of Ohio has refused to review the bank reorganization case started by dissenters to the plan at Napoleon. Which means that it's all over now and the plan goes on. It must be a source of satisfaction to the Committee headed by Frank Dielman and composed of Sol Billig, Otto Evers, Henry Pohlman and Harry Knipp to know that they were right all the time and that the plan under which they worked so hard has had the approval of our courts from the lowest to the highest. It would not have been so nice had the courts ruled they were all wrong. I feel that these men should be highly congratulated by our people for having done a big job of constructive community work and I am willing to give them every bit of credit they so justly deserve.

My old friend Ira Stevens visited me this week and he tells me that he holds quite a record as a subscriber. For 59 years he has put up with the "Signal" never missing a copy since Sept. 15, 1876 and not once during that time I have known him has he complained to the Editor. Good old Ira, the world has most mighty few of his kind.

It won't be long now till the big political campaign of 1936 will be under way. If us folks can keep our feet on the ground it's going to be lots of fun. I urge you all to think for yourself every step of the way and to pity the poor candidate who will be on the spot right up to election day. In order to be elected he must be for old age pensions, $10 wheat, 5c bread, capital without interest, unlimited credit, full dinner pail, job for everybody what wants work and relief for them what don't, high wages, short hours, reduction of taxes, winning home teams, agin Father Coughlin, for Father Coughlin—as soon as he makes up his mind what he's fer—and so on far into the night.

war. The proceeds were for the benefit of the wounded soldiers. These stamps were the forerunners of our present day Christmas Seals.

In 1904 Einar Holboell, a Danish posal clerk originated the idea of selling stamps to raise funds to build a hospital for tuberculous children. The generous citizens of Denmark contributed more than enough to build the hospital.

In 1907 Miss Emily Bissell of Wilmington, Del., took over the stamp idea to raise funds to build a tuberculosis pavilion. A few years later the National Tuberculosis Association organized a nation wide fight against tuberculosis and adopted the Christmas stamp idea to raise funds—that's why to day we have Christmas Seals.

Armbruster Bill In Supreme Court

The opponents of the Armbruster bill have at last got the measure into the Ohio Supreme Court where its constitutionality will be threshed out within the next month or so. From this time on, the opponents must get down to brass tacks and that's what we favor. We are not for the Armbruster bill if it can't pass legal tests, but up until that time we back the measure to the very limit.

Grandpa Atkin

"Grandfather Atkin was born in Grand Cayman B.W.I. He learned carpentry quite young, and also became a seaman. His specialty was Turtling. Hew made nets and bouys, and fished them in Central American and Cuban waters.

The end of the Spanish American War opened up another field of oppurtunities, as the Americans took over the administration of the Island. The Isle of Pines land company acquired a lot of land from it's former owners, and proceeded to sel it in parcels. They also needed English speaking people to populate and develope the Island. Grandfather Jackson bought some property on the South Coast of the Isle of Pines. He then sold some to different families, and founded the village of Jacksonville. Where I was born in 1915."

Notes on Jacksonville

Jacksonville's population was initially comprised of Jacksons, Yates, Hydes, Tatums, and Swabys.

The Rivers and Powerys soon added to the growth. Eventually thes fmilies grew and the growth of Caleta Grande another little Village 2 miles away, created a fair sized community.

There was an old house halfway between, where church services were held, and people from both villages always united. After the hurricane of 1926 most people left there because the place was destroyed. The forest of great hardwood trees were all blown down. Then a terrible fire consumed all timber, ending the hardwood export business.Grandfather Atkin Jackson had a good business of bees and honey. He had aquired and introduced some very fine plants and trees which gave the bees some of the best honey in the world. He had a ready market for all he could produc, and he was always busy. The turtle shell which he salvaged from captured turtles was another source of income. His turtle nets were set in the ocean about a 1/2 mile from the coast. Being visible from their home, they were always aware when turtles became entangled and someone eould row a canoe to remove the turtle, which would then be butchered and the meat shared with any who wanted it.

Recollections of Alvey Yates.

Grandma Benji

Grandma Jackson watched the turtle nets, when the turtles snagged she would call grandpa with conch shell. she watched with spyglasses. Grandpa mended nets, farmed, and cared for his bees ,which made honey from the logwood flower. It was clear- white-, fragrant.

Grandma was a midwife and doctor to all the people. A boys intestine came out 4 inches. She used castile soap and boiling water to clean it. She coaxed it back with olive oil. the boy was okay. she taught school- punished lying severly- taught O.T. (Old Testament?) morality.

Geraldine has "History of Isle of Pines". The Mission house was a converted American hotel. There hads been two hotels on South Coast.

My mother could play the Harp. dad competed with Modril- running wrestling. He had a German congregation (on Isle of Pines?) to whom he preached in German.

When the Isle of Pines was ceded to Cuba the tariff was too steep to ship fruit to the States. The Americans then left. The 1926 hurricane destroyed the hardwood forest (mahogeny). It tore the roots of the trees from, the coral & shell base. 6 monthes after the storm a fire destroyed it all. Now it's rich farm land and turnmed into thick jungle. Uncle Ken lost a barge in the storm.

These are notes that Milda Naumann Bishton made in a conversation with Geraldine Jackson Read.

—M. C. Read, Esq., of Hudson, is one of the most careful students and thorough thinkers in the county, so that we sincerely trust that something will come of the movement to have him put into a lecture for an Akron audience his views of the entire subject of the relations of religion and the State, especially in education, a subject he has been considering with especial care for two years past.

Another Breeze from Hudson.

Another breeze has disturbed the still quiet of Hudson. That bulldog man has turned up again. This time in Hudson, and in the roll of prosecuting witness before the Mayor's court. He charges a saloon keeper, Mike Dougan, with intoxicating him and a companion and stealing $10 from them. Dougan was brought before Mayor Read, when the following conversation ensued:

"Did you steal $10 from these fellows?"

"No, and they can't prove it."

"Did you sell these fellows any liquor?"

"I didn't sell them anything by the drink, but I sold them some whisky."

"Did you intoxicate them?"

"No, they were drunk when they came in."

"What did you sell them by the drink?'

"I only sold them ale."

"All right, then, give me $100 security to appear before the next term of Common Pleas Court."

This ended the conversation.

LOSS

To the Bar Association

And the Community at Large Feelingly Expressed.

The following resolutions were adopted at Monday's meeting of the Summit County Bar Association:

Matthew C. Read, late of Hudson, Summit county, O., but now deceased, was a member of the Bar of said county for a half century.

He was a man of extensive legal knowledge, and of high scholarship. His influence at the bar and in the community was deservedly large, and his loss is an event to be deplored by all the wide circle of his acquaintance.

In view of these facts, the Summit County Bar, in meeting assembled, submits the following resolutions:

Resolved, That in the death of M. C. Read, we are bereft of one of our eldest and most gifted brothers, whose ability was unquestioned, whose capacity for work and loyalty to the interests of his clients and whose industry in his chosen profession make an example for all to emulate and follow.

That the community has lost in him one of its most useful citizens, the Bar one of its most industrious members, and the family its respected and loved head.

That we request the Court of Common Pleas of this county to spread this memorial upon its journal, and that a copy be transmitted to the family of the deceased.

PROMINENT

Citizen of Hudson Is Dead.

Bar Association Will Attend Funeral of Mr. M. C. Read.

At a meeting of the Summit County bar Monday, it was decided to adjourn court Tuesday morning, so members of the bar can attend the funeral of Attorney Matthew Canfield Read, who died Sunday afternoon, at his home in Hudson, O. Judge Hayden appointed Messrs. E. A. Hershey, W. E. Young and W. E. Slabaugh a committee on arrangements, and ex-Judges Wm. H. Upson, C. R. Grant, N. D. Tibbals and E. H. Stuart were selected as honorary pall bearers.

It is planned for as many members of the bar as can attend the funeral to leave Akron over the C., A. & C. at 11:30 for Hudson. The return trip will be made in a special train. Funeral services will be held at the house at 2:30.

Mr. Matthew C. Read was one of the oldest citizens of Summit county, and he was also prominent as an educator and lawyer. He was born August 21, 1823, at Williamsfield, O., and his death Sunday afternoon was due to the infirmities of age. Mr. Read was a graduate of the Western Reserve University, and later he taught grammar in that institution and was lecturer on zoology and practical geology. He served in the army during the War of the Rebellion, and after the war was deputy revenue collector, and served as assistant geologist on a survey of Ohio. Mr. Read was also in charge of the archaeological exhibits of Ohio at the Philadelphia and New Orleans centennials. He is survived by several children.

BEAUTIFUL LIFE

It Was Ended In Death o M. C. Read.

A LONG CAREER

His Life Was One of Use fulness.

Was a Great Scholar and Hi Work Lives After Him.

The death of Hon. M. C. Read of Hu son has removed one of the most no able figures in the history of Summ county. The Hudson Independent co tains the following succinct and com prehensive history of his life:

Another important link binding th earlier days of Hudson to those of th present is broken.

One of the most conspicuous figur in the more recent history of the com munity is removed. One of the most in fluential characters of the last half c the renowned 19th century and of th opening years of the 20th, has been ad vanced to eternal reward.

Although in failing health for mor than five years, yet rather suddenl and from quite constant activity excep during the last year, was the Hon. M C. Read taken by death. Interested i the largest welfare of all his home so ciety and identified with every helpfu institution and movement of local mo ment, his removal could not be othe than sorrowful. Yet he lives. In th ameliorating influence of his life suc men cannot be other than immortal.

Matthew Canfield Read was born i Williamsfield, Ashtabula county, Ohi August 21, 1823. His parents, Ira an Mary Read, were natives of Massach setts, and came to Ohio in 1813. Hi boyhood days were spent on the farm but with a great desire for an educatio at the age of 18 he entered the Wester Reserve academy at Farmington, an later the Grand River institute.

Entered W. R. College.

In 1844 he entered the Western Re serve college at Hudson, and in fou years graduated from that institutio of learning. For a time he taught a se lect school at Columbus, Ohio, an later the academy, at Gustavus, Trum bull county, Ohio. After one year o teaching here Mr. Read decided to ente the law profession and in the office o Chaffee & Woodberry of Jefferson, Ash tabula county, Ohio, he prepared fo admission to the bar. Having com pleted the study of law he was called t the editorship of the "Family Visitor," a journal of considerable importanc published at Hudson. While directin the affairs of that paper, he taught the grammar school in Western Reserve college for one year.

Began Practice of Law.

He then began the practice of law, but at the outbreak of the war he became identified with the sanitary commission, and was with the Army of the Cumberland until they reached Chattanooga, where he was stationed until the great sanguinary struggle was closed. In all his efforts he had been successful, but in this new capacity as agent of the United States sanitary commission at the front, he distinguished himself by establishing as his own conception, a hospital garden which furnished all the vegetables for the sick of the Army of the Cumberland during the last two years of the war. After the close of the war he was appointed deputy revenue collector, during the administration of President Johnson. In 1869 Mr. Read was appointed on the state geological surveying corps, and continued a member in the field until the survey was completed. For this work he was pre-eminently fitted.

In 1869 he was also appointed lecturer on zoology and practical geology in Western Reserve college; this position he held until 1882, from which year he devoted his time to the practice of his profession and special geological surveys and as an expert geologist visited Arizona, Utah, Lake Superior and other places. All the record of these years is an indication of his rare scholarship. In addition to the editorship of the "Family Visitor," he also published several important and valuable volumes, among them, "Archaeology of Ohio," "History of Ohio Judiciary." Also had in manuscript form ready to be published by Harper Brothers, but destroyed in the fire of 1892 a work on political economy, also the history of the sanitary commission. His literary work included numerous contributions to the various scientific magazines.

Of Wide Scholarship.

Mr. Read was also one of the originators and a charter member of the "American Forestry association" which is now so important an organization in this country. As further evidence of Mr. Read's wide scholarship, he was a member of the "Philadelphia Academy of Science," "The New York Historical Society," "The Cleveland and Western Reserve Historical Society," "The Kirtland Academy of Science," "The American Forestry Association" and in 1876 he was in charge of the Ohio Archaeological exhibit at the Centennial exposition in Philadelphia, and in 1884 filled the same position at the Cotton exposition in New Orleans. Upon graduation from Western Reserve college in 1848 he received the degree of A. B. and in 1850 his alma mater conferred upon him the degree of A. M.

In politics Mr. Read was a Republican. Growing up under the influence of such great statesmen as Benjamin Wade and Joshua R. Giddings, it is not so strange that he should be staunch and even strenuous in this faith and practice. He regarded the exercise of frachise as a sacred duty, and only twice did he fail to vote, once while at Chattanooga during the war and once when on other duty outside the state, but was never absent during a national election.

Appreciated Him.

That his patriotism was appreciated by his neighbors is readily evinced by the fact, that for 45 consecutive years they kept him in office.

In his religious faith and practice Mr. Read was decidedly Christian, in childhood having been educated in the creed of the Presbyterians, but during much of his mature life he attended the Episcopal church for whose liturgy and order of service he entertained the highest regard and in its worship found the greatest delight.

In 1851, on August 28, Mr. Read married Orissa E. Andrews, daughter of William Andrews, an attorney of Homer, N. Y. To them were given four children, William H., who resides in Toledo, O.; Charles P., Mary O. and Janet A., who still reside at home with their mother.

At 9 o'clock Sunday morning, June 15, 1902, Matthew Canfield Read died, being the last but one of a class of 15 that graduated from Western Reserve college, and the last of a coterie of college men, among whom were President Pierce, Hitchcock, Cutler and Professors Seymour, Barrows, St. John Loomis and Bartlett. He was striken with paralysis at about 9 o'clock, June 15, 1901.

The Funeral Service.

The funeral services were held at 2:30 p. m., June 17, conducted by the Rev. Henry D. Stauffer, a special friend of the family and rector of St. James Episcopal church, Wooster, O.

ASSIGNMENT OF C. W. FARRAR, OF HUDSON.

Cleveland Herald Special.

HUDSON, O., Aug. 21.—Another old merchant succumbed to the hard times this morning. The difficulty in making collections and the long-continued depression in business have compelled Mr. Charles W. Farrar, one of our oldest merchants here, to make an assignment for the benefit of his creditors. Mr. W. C. Reed, to whom Mr. Farrar has entrusted the management of affairs, says that from the examination he has made he believes the assets will be more than sufficient to pay all debts in full. As soon as an inventory and appraisement can be made by the assignees, a more definite statement will be given. Liabilities not known yet. Mr. Farrar has been engaged in business here since the town was in its infancy. He carried on quite an extensive business as general merchant, and was considered by many to be in good circumstances financially. He will not resume business here.

C. W. Farrar died at Pittsburg, Pa., on Tuesday, March 24, of pneumonia. His remains will be brought to Hudson Friday and the funeral and interment will be at this place at 11 a. m. that day. Mr. Farrar came to Hudson in his early boyhood with his father from Cuyahoga Falls, and was for many years a clerk in the store of Anson A. Brewster. Subsequently he went into business for himself, and in company with Dr. A. E. Berbower built the large Adelphian hall block at an expense of $30,000. This expense and a decline in business and prices led to his failure and assignment early in the '80's. One sister survives the deceased, Mrs. A. E. Berbower, now of Cleveland, O.

ONE OF SUMMIT'S PIONEERS GONE.

Death of John Nutting Farrar at Hudson—A Prominent Citizen.

The many friends in this city of Mr. John Nutting Farrar, for many years a prominent citizen of Hudson, will be pained to learn of his death there on last Saturday morning. He was born at Pepperell, Mass., September 16, 1816. He was the son of John and Submit Nutting Farrar, who soon after his birth removed to St. Albans, Vt., where the former was engaged in business until 1834. In this year, together with his family, he removed to Cuyahoga Falls, engaging in business there, his son, John N., for the next two years, being in partnership with him. In 1836 John N. Farrar removed to Hudson, where he established himself in business, his first contract being for the construction of the observatory of Western Reserve college. Parenthetically, it may be perhaps noted that it was in this observatory, erected in 1836 and 1837, that Professor Elias Loomis, entirely isolated from kindred workers, was one of the first in the United States to make regular and systematic e.s, was one of the first in the United States to make regular and systematic astronomical observations, by means of which he determined the latitude and longitude of his observatory in Hudson, the former being 41 deg. 14 min. 42.6 sec. and the latter 5h 25m. 41.15s or in degrees of arc, 81 deg. 26 min. 24 sec. The meridian of the Hudson observatory, thus established, was for a long time a kind of standard or prime meridian among the astronomers of this country; but it was not as, some have thought, the first principal meridan established in the United States, that passing through the capitol building at Washington, D. C., having determined in 1793, as being 76 deg. 46 min. 17.55 sec., a result varying but 4.16 from the results of the latest calculations.

From 1836 down to the time of his last illness Mr. Farrar was constantly in business in Hudson as a hardware merchant, and for more than 40 years was located in the same building. He was the oldest of nine children, of whom one brother, Charles W. Farrar, formerly a well known dry goods merchant in Hudson, but now of Louisville, Ky., and one sister, Mrs. Frances C. Berbower, of Cleveland, survive. Three daughters survive him, viz; Miss Emma Farrar, of Hudson, Mrs. W. H. A. Read and Mrs. B. G. McMechen, of Toledo. Mr. Farrar was the last of the founders of Christ Episcopal church of Hudson, which was organized July 11, 1842. His reputation in business during his entire lifetime, was that of an honest man. He never failed nor compromised with his creditors; never asked for an extension of time on a debt; never permitted a draft to go to protest, nor engaged in any lawsuit. Thus is removed another of the ancient landmarks of Hudson, and another of the links connecting us with the earlier part of the century. The funeral services, conducted by the lay reader of the Episcopal church, were held at the church at 2:30 p. m., on Tuesday, and on Wednesday morning the remains were taken to Toledo for interment, in which city live two of his daughters, and where one daughter and his wife lie buried.

Marriage of Miss Emma Farrar—A Former Method of Economy.

Correspondence of Beacon and Republican.

HUDSON, May 19.—The marriage of Miss Emma Farrar, of Hudson, to Mr. Geo. Kerry, of Erie, Pa., is announced. Miss Farrar was for years the reigning belle of the village. Her beauty was of a pronounced brunette type and together with her tasteful and elegant toilets have made her the center of attraction at many fashionable gatherings. Recently her usually buoyant spirits were saddened by the death of her parents and she had retired to Kelley's island where she owns valuable vineyard property. Here it was that she met Mr. Kerry who is also interested in the vineyard business, and a quiet wedding has been the result. Her many Hudson friends and admirers wish the couple much joy.

I am writing this as I am not sure where or what I want to do next. I have a family in England that has a common name (Hunt) and if I can make a connection in Canada to a particular area in England, that may be what I want to pursue.

Dear Helen Read,

Thank you for your enquiry. I can certainly have a look at WO 23/45 (Admission Date 9 August 1842?) and hopefully find the Chelsea register entry you want. Digital copies are usually more convenient because of the size of the registers, which cannot be copied by readers themselves, but scanned paper copies can be arranged ... there should also be discharge papers in series WO 97 (which should include enlistment papers) and if you do not have these I could also arrange copies.

I charge at the rate of £18 per hour, broken down into 5 minute blocks, plus cost of copies and postage. If straightforard this job should not take more than an hour. You don't say if you are based in the UK or have a Sterling bank account. If not, you would have to pay by Sterling bank draft. If you would like me to start please send a £10 deposit with your full postal address ... if you do not have a Sterling bank account just confirm that you would like me to go ahead, I will tell you the charge when I have finished and then I will post results when I have received payment.

Yours sincerely

Boston and Albany Railroad

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

The Boston and Albany Railroad (reporting mark B&A)[1] was a railroad connecting Boston, Massachusetts to Albany, New York, later becoming part of the New York Central Railroad system, Conrail and CSX. The line is used by CSX for freight. Passenger service is still operated on the line by Amtrak (as part of their Lake Shore Limited service), and the MBTA Commuter Rail system, which owns and uses the section east of Worcester as their Framingham/Worcester Line.

Superintendent Registrar's Districts

* Below is a map showing approximations of Superintendent Registrar's Districts of County Kerry including numbered Civil Parishes. Underneath the map is a list of all the corresponding Civil Parish names. Click on a Parish name from the list to go to a Townland map of that Parish.

In 1863 Poor Law Unions became known as Superintendent Registrar's Districts in order to record births, marriages, and deaths as a result of the 1863 Acts for the Registration of Births, Deaths, and Marriages, and the Dispensary Districts became known as Registrar's Districts. The PLUs of Kerry were: Cahersiveen, Dingle, Glin, Kenmare, Killarney, Listowel, Tralee. Registration Districts - In 1898, the Local Government Act adopted the Poor Law Unions as the basic administrative unit in place of the civil parishes or baronies. The unions were subdivided into 829 Registration Districts and 3751 District Electoral Divisions. Townlands were arranged according to these divisions, with parishes and baronies being retained only to make comparisons with records gathered before 1898. This is important to know to locate data for the 1901 and 1911 Ireland census information.

ROBERTSTOWN

From A Topographical Dictionary of Ireland, 1837

ROBERTSTOWN, or CASTLE-ROBERT, a parish, in the Shanid Division of the barony of LOWER CONNELLO, county of LIMERICK, and province of MUNSTER, 4 miles (W.) from Askeaton, on the road from Limerick to Tarbert; containing, with Foyn's Island, 1794 inhabitants. This parish, which is situated on the river Shannon, in a level and fertile district, is nearly equidistant from the towns of Askeaton, Rathkeale, and Glin. The land is in general good, though in some places interspersed with detached masses of stone; the greater portion is under tillage, producing favourable crops, and there are good tracts of pasture. The system of agriculture is in a backward state; large portions of land are cultivated with the spade, and manure is carried to the fields on the shoulders of women. That portion of the parish called Ahenish, and improperly considered as an island, is flat and is frequently inundated by the river Shannon; the higher grounds are all well cultivated, and the lower grounds afford rich pasturage.

The principal seats are Old Abbey, the residence of W. Morgan, Esq.; Fort Anne, of S. E. Johnson, Esq.; and Congreiff, of Mrs. Griffin; and at no great distance is Mount Trenchard, the seat of the Rt. Hon. Thomas Spring Rice. Foyn's island lies immediately off Lehys Point, where the rock has been deeply excavated in forming a new line of road.

The living is a vicarage, in the diocese of Limerick, united to the vicarage of Dunmoylan, together forming the union of Robertstown, or Dunmoylan, in the patronage of the Earl of Cork, in whom the rectory is impropriate: the tithes amount to £367. 12. 10 ½., of which two-thirds are payable to the impropriator and one-third to the vicar; the gross tithes of the benefice amount to £200. 17. 7 ½.

In the R. C. divisions the parish forms part of the union of Shanagolden; the chapel is a large and neat modern edifice. There

My Lady of the Chimney Corner

A memorable and moving story of the triumph of the human spirit in the face of adversity. In 1863 the author, Alexander Irvine, was born into dire poverty, the child of a 'mixed' marriage. His parents had survived the ravages of the famine years, but want and hunger were never to be too far away from their door. Irvine was ultimately destined to leave Ireland for America and to become a successful minister and author. He learned to read and write when he had left his home in Antrim far behind, but he came to realize that the greatest lessons he had received in life were at his mother's knee. My Lady of the Chimney Corner is the depiction of an existence that would be unthinkable in modern Ireland; but, more than that, it is the author's loving tribute to his mother, Anna, who taught him to look at the world through clean spectacles. ISBN 978-1-910375-32-7. USA orders. The book is also available as a Kindle download (UK) and Kindle download (US).

are three private schools, in which are about 140 children. The ruins of the old church are near the village; about one mile distant are the interesting remains of the abbey of Manister-na-Gillagh-Dubh, here called the "old abbey," near which are some ancient fortifications; and on the lands of Ahenish are the ruins of Dysart castle.

Annals of the Famine in Ireland

Annals of the Famine in Ireland, by Asenath Nicholson, still has the power to shock and sadden even though the events caught trying to salvage a few potatoes from her landlord's field, and what the magistrate discovered in the pot in her cabin, you cannot help but be appalled and distressed.

The ebook is available for download in .mobi (Kindle), .epub (iBooks, etc.) and .pdf formats. For further information on the book and author see details ».

Ireland's Welcome to the Stranger

This book, the prequel to Annals of the Famine in Ireland cannot be recommended highly enough to those interested in Irish social history. The author, Mrs Asenath Nicholson, travelled from her native America to assess the condition of the poor in Ireland during the mid 1840s. Refusing the luxury of hotels and first class travel, she stayed at a variety of lodging-houses, and even in the crude cabins of the very poorest. Not to be missed!

The ebook is available for download in .mobi (Kindle), .epub (iBooks, etc.) and .pdf formats. For further information on the book and author see details ».

The Scotch-Irish in America

Henry Ford Jones' book, first published in 1915 by Princeton University, is a classic in its field. It covers the history of the Scotch-Irish from the first settlement in Ulster to the American Revolutionary period and the foundation of the country.

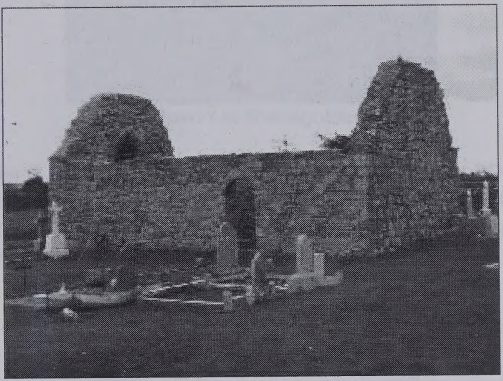
Church Ruins



© Ruins at Robertstown

The first church in Robertstown was near Churchfield. Behind the present day church in Robertstown is the ruin of the previous Robertstown church and graveyard. The grounds are tidy and well kept and the church ruins have been partially rebuilt. Westropp states that Robert de Guer probably founded the church in the early part of the thirteenth century. Ardineer is a townland in Robertstown, and although there is no trace of a church in the present townland, it is believed that the original Robertstown church may have been situated here.

© Tower at Shanagolden

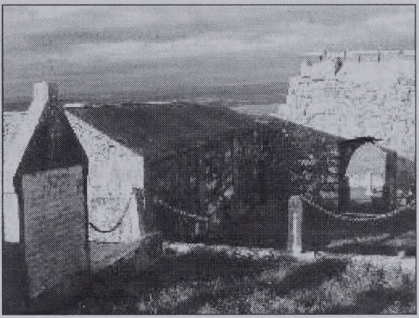
The church ruin in Shanagolden was converted into a place of Protestant worship and a tower was built on the site when the conversion took place. As there is a mention of a "lofty square tower built in 1815" in the Postal Directory of Munster, it can be assumed that this is one and the same tower.

© Kilmoylan Church

About a mile from Shanagolden are the ruins of another church. Kilmoylan church is at the eastern end of the parish and Westropp measured the church as 35 feet by 18 feet. The west gable fell in the Night of the Big Wind in 1839.

© Ruins in Mount Pleasant Graveyard and Altar in Mount Pleasant Graveyard

There is also a church ruin in Mount Pleasant graveyard. Near the church ruin is an altar. Both the church ruin and the altar are in good condition.



© Knockpatrick Church

Knockpatrick church is situated 572 feet above sea level and gives a stunning view of the Shannon Estuary and the surrounding countryside. According to legend, St Patrick consecrated the church at Knockpatrick when he visited the area in 448 AD. He also blessed all that lay west of him, as he never ventured as far as Kerry. Westropp wrote that the Danes burned Knockpatrick in 1114.

To the east of the church there are six stones that are called 'Suíochán Pádraig', St Patrick's Seat. According to Mainchín Seoighe, the traditional religious practice at Knockpatrick involved reciting three Rosaries: one around the wall of the burial grounds, one while moving clockwise around St Patrick's Well and the third at Suíochán Pádraig.

© Suíochán Pádraig

Westropp also mentions churches at Aughinish and Ardaneer but the sites of these churches are unknown today. There was also an old church at Dysert or Morgans as it is now called. It is believed that this church was located near Barrigone well. The name Morgans was derived from the Irish Muingeadain, meaning a 'maritime spot'. The church is believed to have been built in the 15th century. It is said to have been built by two sisters, but neither their names nor their surnames are remembered.

© Robertstown graveyard

There are five graveyards in the parish of Shanagolden-Robertstown-Foynes. Robertstown graveyard is situated in the grounds of a church ruin, about a quarter of a mile by road from the present day Robertstown church. At Robertstown graveyard the oldest headstone that we came across was from November 1788 and it was in memory of Joanna O'Brien.

© Mount Pleasant graveyard

Mount Pleasant graveyard is situated close to the boundary line between the parish of Shanagolden/Robertstown/Foynes and Askeaton/Ballysteen parish. At Mount Pleasant the oldest headstone that we found was from 1817 but according to Canon O'Keeffe's records, the oldest headstone in the graveyard dates from 1785, and is in memory of a W. Casey who died aged 46.

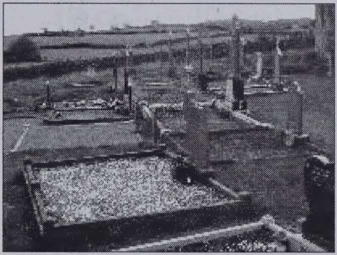
© Shanagolden graveyard

Shanagolden graveyard is situated across from the Community Hall. The oldest headstone that we came across in Shanagolden cemetery dated from 1814. However, according to Canon O'Keeffe's records on the headstones in the cemetery, the oldest headstone is from 1703. It is in memory of M. Pierce Green who died on November 12th 1703. On the headstone are the words "killed by the Tories".



© Kilmoylan graveyard

There is also a graveyard located in the grounds of Kilmoylan church ruin. In Kilmoylan graveyard, the oldest headstone is in memory of Owne Mulkere who died on the 10th of March 1808 at the age of 92. There is also a plaque to the Desmond and Crimmins families in the ruins of the old church.

© Knockpatrick graveyard

The fifth graveyard surrounds the historic site of Knockpatrick. The oldest headstone here is in memory of Fr Philip O'Nolain who died in 1738 after only one year as parish priest of Shanagolden. Also buried on Knockpatrick is Charlotte Smith O'Brien, the daughter of William Smith O'Brien who was a Member of Parliament in Westminster for over 20 years, where he represented his constituents with distinction. Charlotte died on June 3 1909 aged 63.

Today, there are three churches in use in the parish. The first church that you meet as you enter the parish is at Robertstown. This church is on the main Limerick-Foynes road and it was built in 1830.

Dear Mrs Read,

Thank you very much for your letter of 15 May with cheque and for your recent letter. I am sorry not to have replied before. The outcome of research is that some but not all of the required information has been found.

There is no likely death entry for Margaret Crimmins 1837-51. Crimmins etc entries found were as follows:-

James Crimmins, Marylebone (Middlesex), Sep 1843.

Catherine Crimmins, Do, June 1846.

Patrick Crimmins, Liverpool, Mar 1847.

Deborah Crimmins, Do, June 1847.

Bridget Crimmens, Marylebone, Sep 1847.

John Crimmins, St. Olave (Surrey/London), Sep 1847.

Patrick Crimmins, Marylebone, Sep 1847.

Margaret Crimmin, Do, Dec 1848.

Margaret Crimmin, West London, June 1849.

Margaret Crimmen, Marylebone, Sep 1850.

I have found the following:-

Born 6 December 1850 at Willington Quay, Wallsend, Northumberland. Edmund, Boy, of John Crimmins, Labourer & Mary Crimmins formerly Donathan. Informant: John Crimmins, Father, of Willington Quay, 14 January 1851.

As I could find no entry for the birth of Patrick John Crimmins in Staffordshire I checked all entries 1844-52:-

Bridget Crimmins, Marylebone, Sep 1845.

Margaret Crimmin, St. Pancras (Middlesex), Dec 1846.

Jeremiah Crimmins, Marylebone, Dec 1847.

Patrick Crimmins, Tynemouth, June 1848.

Eliza Crimmens, Chelsea (Middlesex), June 1849.

? John Thomas Crimmins, Marylebone, Mar 1847.

Edmund Crimmins, Tynemouth (Northumberland), Mar 1851 (Noted above).

James Crimmins, Chelsea, June 1851.

Richard Crimmins, Chelsea, Jun 1851.

Honora Crimins, Greenwich (Kent/London), Sep 1851.

Daniel Crimmins, Greenwich, June 1852.

James Crimmin, St. James Westminster (Middlesex), Sep 1852.

Ellen Crimmin, Marylebone, Sep 1852.

John Crimmin, Poplar (Middlesex), Sep 1852.

It looks as though the June 1848 entry must be the relevent one. Tynemouth was the Registration District for Wallsend.

The 1851 census of Willington Quay disclosed:-

HO 107 2409 folio 117/118.

John Crimmins, Head, Married, aged 48, Pensioner Chelsea Hospital, born Limerick, Ireland.

Mary Do, Wife, 39, Domestic at Home, born Island Jersey.

Margt. Do, Daughter, 7, Scholar at Home, born Limerick, Ireland.

Mary Do, Daughter, 6, Scholar at Home, born Limerick, Ireland.

Patrick Do, Son, 2, born Willington, Northumberland.

Edmond Do, 3 months, born Ditto do.

Ellen Do, Niece, 14, Orphan Domestic, born Limerick, Ireland.

Thos Donavan, Father, Widower, 62, Pensioner Chelsea Hospital, born Limerick, Ireland.

There was no sign of any other Crimmins family in the vicinity.

Army Records revealed:-

WO 23 45. Chelsea Registers, 95th Foot, 1845-54.

John Crimmins,

1-0.

Date of Admission - 9 Aug 1842.

Residence - Limerick.

Liverpool, 1 Aug 1847.

Newcastle, 1 Sep 1847.

84686/63 1850.

Canada, 1 July 1951.

Willington Quay would have been in the Newcastle Pension District.

This brings me to the end of research. If you would like me to continue I would suggest I investigate the Crimmins family of Marylebone.

Yours sincerely,

A.J. McMillan.

Subject: Military Record Search

I recently contacted the Records Office with a request & was told it was not easily identifiable. I thought I had specific details!

What I have is:

Date of Admission 9 Aug. 1842
Residence - Limerick
Liverpool - 1 Aug. 1847

What I am trying to obtain is a paper (or digital) copy of the original papers. A.J. McMillan, a researcher in 1978, found the record but only abstracted some of the information.

What would you advise?

The map above represents pre-famine percentages of literacy and poor (4th class) housing in Ireland circa 1841. This helps set the stage for a short description of 'The Great Hunger' which began in Ireland around the Fall of 1845, continued up to 1851, and ended in the deaths of an estimated one million Irish (or one out of every nine inhabitants). To understand the Great Famine, one must realize the expanding population of early 1800's Ireland and the growing dependency on a single crop - the Potato. To realize why it lasted for five years one must understand the politics, culture and economics of the time, since full crop failures did not occur every year between 1845 and 1850.

In 1800, some four and one-half million people lived in Ireland. By the autumn of 1845, when the Great Famine struck Ireland, there were more than eight million. This was the largest increase in the population of Ireland in its history, an increase estimated at 172%. By the time of the Famine Ireland's population of poor was very high, and its population of landlords was very low (est. 5000).

The "white" potato, known today as the Irish potato, originated in the Andean Mountains. In 1532 the Spanish arrived in north Peru and it is speculated that they brought the potato to Europe in the second half of the 16th century. By 1800, the potato had taken root and ninety percent of the Irish population was dependent on the potato as their primary means of caloric intake and as an export.

In September of 1845, a fungus called Phytophthora infestans was infecting Ireland's potato crops, devastating the potato population. About half the Irish potato crop failed in 1845. This event is what began The Great Famine in Ireland.

The next year, 1846, the crop was destroyed again. By 1847 (Black '47) the impact of the famine spelled doom for Ireland. A large proportion of the population died from disease or starvation, while a great number of the people fled the country, largely occuring in a five year period between 1846 to 1851. This event is well noted as one of the greatest catastrophes of the 19th century.

While the blight provided the catalyst for the famine, the calamity was essentially man-made, a poison of blind politics, scientific ignorance, rural suppression, and enforced poverty.

Many Irish landlords sent badly needed grain to England for profit, instead of retaining it for the poorer classes (cottiers and labourers). Without crops or employment the tenants could no longer pay rent, so many lost the lands they may have rented while their landlords exported grain ans cattle to offset their losses. The effect of this was multiplied by the fact that the English parliament was reluctant to send any food to Ireland. One official declared in 1846, "It is not the intention at all to import food for the use of the people of Ireland."

Although the net export of food out of Ireland actually decreased over the Famine period, shipping records indicate that 9,992 Irish calves were exported to England during Black '47, a 33 percent increase from the previous year. Irish grain was exported, while cheap Indian meal was (sometimes) imported to feed the poor population. What was not known at the time, however, was the Indian meal contained little or no nutrients and only contributed further to the spread of disease. A majority of Famine victims died from malnutrition-related diseases such as dropsy, dysentery, typhus, scurvy and cholera, rather than directly from starvation.

For many the only alternative to disease and starvation, and the only option to eviction from their tenant lands, was emigration. The Passenger Act of 1847 was passed and it granted each [eligible] emigrant 10 cubic feet and a supply of food and water. Realistically captains didn't obey this act and many people starved or died of disease in cramped quarters aboard the emigrant ships. An estimated one and one-half million Irish emigrated from 1845 to 1851, upwards of 20-45% dying in the "coffin ships" on their journey or shortly after their arrival in their new home.

The overall impacts of the Famine included:

- the decline of the Irish language and customs (in 1835, the number of native Irish speakers was estimated at four million -- in 1851, only 2 million spoke Irish as their first language)

- the devastation of the landless laborer class and small tenant farmer.
- a treeless landscape in many parts of Ireland.
- the shells of homes and "mud" cabins that were rendered uninhabitable.
- a massive decrease in farms of 15 acres and less. The 1841 census showed that 45% of land holdings were less than five acres. In 1851 this was 15%.
- Irish emigrants scattered around the globe.

Today there are over 5 million people in Ireland, while it is estimated there are upwards of 70 million people of Irish descent throughout the world.

In a statement by British Prime Minister Tony Blair on the eve of the 150th Famine commemoration in 1997, he said, "The famine was a defining event in the history of Ireland and of Britain. It has left deep scars. That one million people should have died in what was then part of the richest and most powerful nation in the world is something that still causes pain as we reflect on it today. Those who governed in London at the time failed their people through standing by while a crop failure turned into a massive human tragedy. We must not forget such a dreadful event. Britain in particular has benefited immeasurably from the skills and talents of Irish people, not only in areas such as music, the arts and the caring professions, but across the whole spectrum of our political, economic and social life."

The famine is still a highly sensitive issue in Ireland and has left a bitter legacy in Anglo-Irish relations. Historians agree that the British Government could not be held solely responsible for the calamity. When the potato crop failed through blight every year between 1845 and 1850, food was shipped to Ireland by the Government and charities but the profitable export of grain and cattle was allowed to continue. As wealthy farmers and landowners profited, their tenants starved to death and London was widely accused of doing too little too late by way of relief. Ireland lost a quarter of its eight million population in six years. In addition to those who perished in Ireland, a million fled abroad to North America, Australia and New Zealand. Thousands died in horrific conditions on the Famine Ships.

Sources: 1831, 1841 and 1851 Census of Ireland

Notes:

"Forecasted 1851 Census" = extrapolated 1851 population based on population growth from 1831 to 1841.

"Estimated Population Decrease due to Famine & Emigration" = difference between forecasted and actual 1851 census.

(estimated decrease due to emigration and starvation-related disease and death)

It is almost certain that, owing to geographical difficulties and the unwillingness of the people to be registered, the census of 1841 gave a total smaller than the population in fact was. Officers engaged in relief work put the population as much as 25 percent higher. Perhaps similar comments may be applied to the 1851 census.

The Census Commissioners in 1851 stated that, had the Famine not occurred, the population would have been 9,018,799. The commissioners calculated that, as a percentage of the 1841 population, mortality from 1845 to 1850 was as follows:

1845 : 6.4%
1846 : 9.1%
1847 : 18.5%
1848 : 15.4%
1849 : 17.9%

2 Children Hurt When Car Hits Pole On Road E

Two were slightly injured Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock when a car left the road and hit a phone pole.

The car was driven by Judith Gerken, 22, Rt. 1, Hamler, who was traveling east on Road E, when she came to the intersection of Road 10, a mile west of Hamler.

She then noticed a car coming up driven by Mrs. Norman E. Haase, 48, Rt. 1, Hamler, which she thought was going to stop, but when it came on she applied the brakes, hit the dirt, and swerved into a phone pole.

Her little passengers Ann Gerken, 5, was bumped in the side of the head, and Pam Gerken, 2, was cut in the chin.

Rabies Scare Is Dispelled

Folk in the neighborhood of Colton were greatly disturbed the first of this week when a queer acting woodchuck was captured, fearing that it might be a victim of rabies, but a veterinarian's report disclosed the fact that the little wild animal had been hit by an automobile and fatally injured.

Kennedy desires this nomination. No one knows who will be the Republican candidates for President and Vice President nor the Democratic candidate for Vice President.

Probably at this moment even President Johnson is uncertain about his preference for running mate.

Sen. Stephen Young is predicting that the Democratic Convention in Atlantic City next August will nominate Defense Secretary McNamara, of Michigan, former General Motors president for Vice President and if the Johnson - McNamara ticket wins in November, Attorney General Bobby Kennedy will be promoted to Secretary of Defense. "That latter job requires a tough minded man to prevent the generals from prevailing as they would over a weak Secretary of Defense. Our founding fathers decreed that civilian authority must always be supreme over military," Young pointed out this week.

Daniel Reimund Dies

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon for Daniel Reimund Monroe township farmer, who died in his home Monday night, after he was stricken earlier in the day while husking corn. Rites conducted by Rev. Stockmeier were held in the residence, south of Five Corners at 1:30 p. m. and at 2 p. m. in St. John's Evangelical Reformed church. Burial was in the church cemetery.

Daniel Reimund was born in Monroe township on Fev. 10, 1883. He was baptized and confirmed in the Lutheran church in Flatrock township. On Oct. 1, 1905, he was married to Avis Glick. This union was blessed with three daughters. The family lived on several farms in Harrison and Monroe townships.

For the past several years Mr. Reimund's health was impaired, yet the stroke that caused his death last Friday evening was a shock to his family and friends. He was stricken between four and five in the afternoon while he was husking corn. His neighbors, John Roddy and Paul Meyer, carried him to the house. He did not regain consciousness. The end came at 10:15; his family, his brothers and sisters, were at his bed-side. He attained the age of 56 years, seven months and seven days. He enjoyed a good reputation, and numerous friends, and will be missed by many outside his immediate circle.

The closest mourners are; the widow, the daughters, Mrs. Lulu Fetter and Mrs. Mildred Mann of Holgate, Mrs. Clarice Ridenour of Pemberville, also three grand-daughters; the brothers, Will of Defiance, Henry and Ed of Napoleon, and the sisters, Mrs. Anna Huddle of Napoleon, and Mrs. Kathryn Kurtz of Malinta.

along this street that the army of Cortez, the great conqueror of Mexico, passed on the "dismal night" when he was driven from the city by the Aztecs. On this street, too, occurred some of the most desperate fighting on that terrible night. There the Spaniards were able to do nothing against the tiger-like ferocity and fanaticism of the Aztecs.

On the opposite side of the Alameda is Avenida Juarez, named after the great Mexican reformer, who had freed the country from the grinding rule of the church. This is a wide, well paved street and on account of its width and its central location is the scene of all the public processions, especially those of a civic character. This street is a continuation of the great public drive, the Paseo de la Reforma.

Many of the streets have very curious names. For instance, there are the Street of the Lost Child, the Street of Peace, the Street of the Arts, that of the Wood Owls, the Deer, Sorrow, the Sad Indian, the Holy Ghost, of Christ, of Jesus, of the Sanctified Virgin, of the Purified Virgin, of Death and the Lane of the Rat. All of these have stories connected with them. Many of the streets have names that sound impious to northern ears. But there is no more thought of impiety in naming them than there is in calling a boy Jesus. The Street of the Holy Ghost was originally the Street of the Church of the Holy Ghost. So on with the other streets bearing sacred names. This curious, incongruous use of sacred names is to be frequently noted in Mexico.

The streets of Mexico commemorate

6 Sub-Zero Nights, Heavy Snows Mark January Weather

January, 1940, coldest in years, is a "gone but not forgotten" month.

Six sub-zero nights, one sub-zero day, two zero nights, days and days and nights and nights of cold, nearly 15½ inches of snow and several fog-enveloped nights left a mark on Marion.

Coal piles melted as if by magic as hungry furnaces and stoves were fired to the hilt to counteract the piercing cold.

Average temperatures for the month was 17.7 degrees, according to records of Observer E. H. Raffensperger. The monthly mean was 8.35 under the average for the month.

The highest temperature for the 31 days was 47 and the minimum was 15 below—coldest night in Marion since January of 1936 when the mercury slid to 18 below. The record maximum for the month is 74, established in 1906.

Snowfall for the month measured 15.40 inches, heaviest fall in recent years, but considerably under the 30 inches in 1918, the 23 in 1915 and 20 in 1920. Heaviest single fall was three inches on the seventeenth.

Unusual in weather annals of recent years, there was only one day last month when there wasn't at least a trace of snow on the ground. That was on the fourteenth, the same day that the maximum temperature of 47 was recorded.

Twelve days of the month were cloudy, eight was clear and 11 were partly cloudy, records show.
